

Earth Changes Bulletin Update As Of August 6 2003

You have heard of the Weather Report? Here exclusively is this week's "Earth Report" - a short review of the "big picture" about how the dynamic changes in the Sun and the Earth are effecting our lives more and more intensely, with the latest prognostications and predictions for weathermen, farmers, investors, businessmen, and every man.

This update is keyed to the Earth Changes 2003 Almanac Calendar. The framework for understanding these updates and much of the current status information is maintained in capsule form in the Almanac at the locations cited in the text of this Update.

On the geophysical front, quakes were mainly subdued except for a 7.5 Cayce-like "upheaval" along a margin of the Antarctic Tectonic Plate, which was followed by 13 sizable after-quakes. Volcanoes were down slightly, (this is a little subjective sometimes), and seismic activity continued in somewhat the same pattern as the last two weeks. The Earth's July shape-shifting continued with two other quakes along the margin of the Antarctic Tectonic Plate and in the Mid-Atlantic Rift. The SUN at the moment is fritzing once again with sunspots up to about 155 on August 6, bringin an increase in both crazy humans and extreme weather patterns, currently an exceptional heat wave nearly everywhere. All predictions stand, NO SIGN YET OF A NORMAL AUGUST on any front and most likely sunspots are headed back up, to peak finally about August 25 most likely over 200. For Europe, the heat will continue, then break in September and be followed by immense rains and floods.

On the geopolitical front, LITTLE CHANGE DURING THESE DOG DAYS OF SUMMER. ALL CONDITIONS CONTINUE TO DECAY INTO INCREASING DISORDER. A culture of mass deception and denial in America continues to sow and reap fragmentation and increasing opposition. Currently, the media is consciously generating a circus around Kobe Byrant, whose "vigorous" adultery backfired and now draws more interest than exposures of the lies of the Imperial Faction. Or so the media bubbleheads conveniently claim. Soon they will be giving us a full blown three ring circus in California with a parade of luney tune celebrities (so-called) displaying the implosion of the two party system into shards of incoherence which reflect dimly the face of the inscrutable changes which are convulsing North America. Pay attention to the show, it portends at least some of that which is about to befall America during the ensuing few years. The only thing which is certain is that massive social change is necessary in the most fundamental of policies in trade, equity, family, corporate management, environmental management, the conduct of politics, the obscene conduct of the pharmaceutical and bio-engineering companies, the corrupting, deadly corrosive influence of the Imperial Faction and their secret "Black Arts Nation", taking care of one another, and the very structure of the Republic, just to mention a few. Equally certain is that Americans "officially" are still in massive denial about it. Let us see how the Terminator from Austria waltzes with these themes and how the conventional pols, including Grey Davis, do not.

Program Thesis: What are we trying to do with the Earth Changes Bulletin?

Most news media do not handle technical and scientific subjects like geology and earth sciences very well. They don't understand the causes and effects of activities in the Sun and Earth. Accordingly, they often do not understand if, when, how, why to report earthquakes, volcanic activity, global warming effects. The treatment often sounds absent-minded, poorly qualified, and frequently contains various technical errors. Seldom is the treatment entertaining and genuinely educational.

Based on new scientific principles which have emerged during the past thirty years, many of the dynamic activities of the Sun and Earth can be linked together to see how a range of effects are linked together. This makes it possible to paint "the big picture" into a perspective which explains many diverse events and processes, especially climate and weather patterns such as global warming and El Nino. From the "big picture", long range predictions can be made for weeks and even months ahead.

The result is sophisticated cutting-edge information which is objective, balanced, astute, relevant, and can be easily seen and appreciated by lay audiences. The perspective is generally global, seldom parochial. For the framework of concepts, terms, and current conditions which are used or described in the these Bulletins, see the Earth Changes 2003 Almanac Calendar.

To see the internet resources which are used to prepare this Update, take a look at the Earth Monitor front page <http://www.michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor>.

If linked pages in this report require a password, you will need to subscribe to the earth changes bulletin. Those which require a password will be indicated. All such information is copyrighted, please do not copy the information on the internet. Let them subscribe. If the material does not require a password, the material is available for free and it may be freely copied on the internet.

HOUSEKEEPING:

RE: THE COMING ECONOMIC COLLAPSE OF 2006, which puts today, tomorrow, and the trends together into the Cayce 25 year economic cycle which will "bottom" in 2006/2007.

FINAL EBOOK CAN BE DOWNLOADED FROM
<http://www.michaelmandeville.com/calendar/collapse2006>

I have escaped to SNOWFLAKE Arizona FOR AUGUST. I WILL CATCH UP WITH EVERYBODY FROM THERE. There are a hundred messages at least which I intend to respond to so if you have not heard from me after writing serious questions, hang on for a few more days.

I WILL HAVE DAILY OR SO ACCESS TO THE IWAY

All outgoing mail will be sent from: "Michael" or "Inspirit"
<inlighthardman@cybertrails.com>

PLEASE DO NOT USE AUTO REPLY if you respond to messages with this email message on it. All such messages will go to an email box to which I do not have access.

Instead, MAKE SURE YOU TYPE IN MY BASIC EMAIL ADDRESS, WHICH IS:

mwman@earthlink.net

As reported: People are beginning to ask again about Arizona and Safe Havens projects. I will do some special posts on this in August.

SPIRITUAL WATCH – AS OBSERVED LAST WEEK

The high sunspot peaks are excellent for meditation and expanding one's consciousness of the spiritual energies. Past peaks brought forth amazing energy and power into the lives of meditaters, psychic attuners, and spiritually active healing practitioners.

MOST PEOPLE I HAVE TALKED TO THE PAST WEEK HAVE NOTICED A REAL BREAK IN THE ENERGY – MOOD – FEELING – CONSCIOUSNESS. Most people have experienced a negative shift, attended with an increase in confusion, doubts, even mood shifts to occassional despair. This, despite high sunspot counts which should tend to swing people into energized moods rather than depressive moods.

You have to go to spiritual realms to seek understanding. I am completely unable to explain it. Maybe there is astrology involved. I do not personally follow it closely enough to know or talk intelligently on such a subject, so I won't.

All I can do is witness the instability in the energy and mental/emotional states of a lot of people I know, including self, and recommend more cheerfully and loudly than ever that a regular meditation practice IS NOT JUST USEFUL, IT IS DAMN NEAR ESSENTIAL FOR MAINTAINING CONTROL OF ERRANT EMOTIONAL DRIFT CAUSED BY THE VARIOUS SOURCES OF STRESS, MEDIA SORcery, AND UGLY THINGS HAPPENING IN OUR ENVIRONMENT (AND WORLD).

AS REPORTED LAST WEEK: Have you not noticed as prominently advertised here that a lot of people ARE going crazy and that gratuitous violence and terminal weirdness are evident all around with high sunspot counts? Need I name names or point to specific events? Central Casting has been so thrilled at audience participation on Earth and general response to cosmic sunspot choreography that a special offer is now available to subscribers of the Earth Changes Bulletin.

THEREFORE, AS RECOMMENDED LAST WEEK: MEDITATE OFTEN AND RE-CENTER YOUR ENERGY ON LOVE AND GIVING IT. Central Casting will shield out the backlash, cancel out all NEGGIES, THE DOG DAYS, STORIES ABOUT THE EMPIRE STRIKES BACK, ALL FORMS OF VIOLENCE AND WEIRDNESS AND ETC.

Such a deal! A meditation a day lets it all go. For especially powerful meditations, high highs (really) without drugs, you will have another chance leading up to the August 27 alignment of Earth with Mars. If you are not already meditating on a regular basis with a regular regime, take advantage of this next cycle to connect with new people in a wonderful way and to blow a lot of clinkers out of your being and headspace.

For more info: see
<http://www.michaelmandeville.com/quest>

POLAR MOTION

What is happening to the motion of the Earth. For the overall summary of the status of polar motion GO TO:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#polarmotion>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

To see the current graph of polar motion, see

http://www.michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/topten_monitor.htm

Scroll down the page until you get to the black and white graphs with show the x and y coordinates of the North Spin Axis on two separate graphs.

Once again, no change from last week. Steady as she goes. As previously reported, a slow acceleration in the shifting of the poles has been underway for perhaps the past 100 years and the last three decades has shown an increase in the rate of acceleration.

ONCE AGAIN, AS REPORTED LAST WEEK, THE "RUT PATTERN" PERSISTS THIS WEEK: Is the Earth stuck in a rut? Currently, the axis is moving right down the same exact wobble track it made during the last pass on this side of the Earth some 14 months ago. I have no idea what this suggests, if anything, at the moment. But I should add that it should not be moving the same as it did 14 months ago, it should be constantly spiraling in and out in its 7 year spiral cycle which is called Chandler's Wobble.

MAGNETIC POLES – SHIFTING

What is happening to the magnetic fields of the Earth. For the overall summary of the status of the changes in the magnetic field GO TO:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#earthfield>
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

No news since last report: a slow acceleration of the rate of drift towards the spin axis is underway.

PLANETS

(all time coordinates here and elsewhere are in UTC unless otherwise noted)

For background and the current information on planetary alignments GO TO:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#planets>
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

See Earth Changes 2003 Almanac Calendar for additional details

<http://www.michaelmandeville.com/ebooks/calendar2003/>

The Almanac lays out the planets and the lunar phases for entire year in advance to allow you to find the best and worst periods of weather, earthquake activity, ethereal "lunar" influences, etc.

The Moon this day is deep in its South Node (South of the Earth's Equator) and we passed the New Moon on July 29. The Lunar Perigee was today, August 6 13:52 UTC some 369436 km distance from the Earth and some five days before the Full Moon. This is not the closest Perigee of record but even so this may make for an extended period of heightened earthquake activity between the New Moon and the Full Moon. (Perigee = the Moon's closest approach to the Earth during its monthly orbit which increases gravitational influence of the Moon by as much as 15%; Apogee = the Moon's greatest distance from the Earth during its monthly orbit).

One could easily compute the syzygy window for this Full Moon Period as running from today, August 6 through to about August 14. Normally Berkland computes a syzygy window forecast for the full moon periods but at this late date he still has not done so. Jim Berkland has a more complex formula for syzygy and his dates are often different. For details see <http://www.syzygyjob.com/>

The next Full Moon is August 12 at 4:48 UTC.

The next planetary alignment will be on August 18. A double header alignment will form between Earth | Mars | Neptune on one head and Venus | Jupiter on the other head. Since the orbital speeds of Mars and Earth are very similar (compared to the rest of the solar system), their alignment will be very close most of the month.

AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED: The Earth | Mars alignment is August 27. At 5:51 a.m. EDT on Aug. 27, 2003, Mars will be within 34,646,418 miles (55,758,006 kilometers) of Earth. This will be the closest that Mars has come to our planet in nearly 60,000 years. For general background info on Mars and the approaching alignment, see

http://www.space.com/spacewatch/mars_preview_021108.html
(watch the word wrap on this URL)

CHECK OUT THE LINK ABOVE FOR BACKGROUND INFO ON THE APPROACHING EARTH | MARS ALIGNMENT. THIS IS A PROFOUNDLY IMPORTANT EVENT ON AUGUST 27, 2003 WHICH YOU SHOULD TUNE INTO. THE SUN IS GOING TO EMIT AN ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF ENERGY DURING THIS PERIOD AND THIS WILL PRODUCE AN ESCALATION IN VIOLENCE AND CHAOS IN HUMAN SOCIETY.

PLANET WATCHING:

For background and the current information on observable planets and planetary alignments GO TO:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#planets>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

Mars is brighter now ever, and it will be 60% brighter still by the end of this month. Amazing. Simple hobby telescopes can now "tune in" the planet and see features on it, like Mars' polar ice cap.

AS REPORTED LAST TWO WEEKS: CIRCLE YOUR CALENDAR FOR AUGUST 12 AND 13

NASA REPORTS: METEOR WATCH: The annual Perseid meteor shower peaks this year on August 13th. Read the full story from Science@NASA and find out when to look for earthgrazing Perseids and a pleasing close encounter on the same night between the moon and Mars.

NASA posted a great story

http://science.nasa.gov/headlines/y2003/17jul_perseids2003.htm

which explains in depth the Perseid meteors, the Full Moon, and how to locate Mars on August 13. Go take you kids out of the city to watch because city glare ruins it. The higher the elevation the better and get at least 50 miles out into the boonies.

SEE THE ANCIENT DRAMA IN THE SKY IN THE EARLY EVENING TO MIDNIGHT SKY

(this is a repeat of posts made the last couple of weeks)

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#ancient>

HOW TO FIND MARS:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#ancient>

SUNSPOTS

The events in the solar atmosphere which impact weather and climate patterns, the magnetic field and auroras, including forecasts for the week, month, and year ahead. For background information, go to:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#sunspots>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

To follow the numbers below, view the Solar Cycle 23 Chart at

http://www.michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/topten_monitor.htm

Jan Alvestad, whose charts and numbers and forecasts I rely upon to keep track of sunspot dynamics, is on vacation this week and the next two, so we have to use this little table below instead which comes from NOAA files at

<http://www.sec.noaa.gov/ftpdir/latest/DSD.txt>

As can be seen the sunspots have been increasing in numbers since last report, when the count was 65. Today, August 6, the count is at 155. Expect it to keep climbing through the next several days, perhaps until August 12-15. I will not hazard a guess as to the high they will achieve but I note that the flux is already beginning to level off or decline, which usually heralds a shift in the curve of the sunspot numbers. In this case it would seem to indicate a slowdown in the climbing of the sunspot numbers.

	Radio	SESC
	Flux	Sunspot
Date	10.7cm	Number

2003 07 31 102 65

2003 08 01	107	85
2003 08 02	111	95
2003 08 03	120	144
2003 08 04	123	138
2003 08 05	131	136
2003 08 06	129	155

ACCORDINGLY, NOW CLEARLY CONFIRMED WITH ONLY A MINOR EXCEPTION - AS REPORTED LAST FEW WEEKS: As of July, though this date is arbitrary, perhaps can be considered to be a good estimation of the beginning of the slow alignment between Earth and Mars, giving a period roughly 60 days before for a slowly heightening increase in energy from the Sun. This may mean that sunspot counts remain relatively high, perhaps close to 100 on average, slowly increasing for the Earth | Mars alignment. There will be at least three minor peaks between now and then. SO FAR, NUMBERS ARE STAYING ABOVE 100 ALMOST ALL OF THE TIME.

CONFIRMED: The Earth's magnetic atmosphere is merging rapidly with Mars and this huge circuit in the solar system will draw out the heavy solar activity, sunspots, and emissions.

UNFORTUNATELY THE RELIEF I WAS HOPING FOR HAS NOT BEEN EXTENDED IN AUGUST. I THINK THAT WE CAN CLEARLY SAY THAT THERE WILL BE NO NORMAL MONSOON. ANYWHERE. August should be an even bigger rockem and sockem solar month than July. I predict that we are going to see a distinctly "third" peak in Sunspot Cycle 23, produced by the high average counts of sunspots during July and August 2003.

MONTHLY AVERAGES IN SOLAR CYCLE 23: Over all, the sunspot average count (ISSN) for February was 46.4 and for March it rose to 61.5. The number for April was 60. May's average was 55. The average sunspot count (ISSN) for June, was 77.4 up nearly 50 percent over May. That is a highly significant deviation from the projected curve. (These numbers are reported by Jan Alvestad). LIKELY NOW, BOTH JULY AND AUGUST WILL BE EVEN HIGHER.

As of this moment, the Solar Wind Speed is a brisk 515.6 km/s at this hour (about 2 PM, AZ time) AND it is pushing a modest density of 3.3 protons/cm³. These momentary fluctuations continue to mean little during these times. Currently the Fluxgate Charts at the University of Alaska (which measures magnetic disturbances in the Earth's atmosphere) shows a severe magnetic disturbance during the past 36 hours. Expect aurora watching to be great.

To see the Fluxgate, go to <http://137.229.36.30/cgi-bin/magnetometer/plotstations.cgi?>
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

NASA PREDICTS: "AURORA OUTLOOK: Sky watchers should be alert for auroras after nightfall on August 6th when Earth is expected to encounter a solar wind stream flowing from a coronal hole on the sun. Last week a similar stream sparked Northern Lights as far south as Michigan and Wisconsin in the United States."

The Sun remains highly charged and unstable. NASA also predicts a 45% or so probability of practically any kind of solar storm, flare, or explosion during the next 24 hours.

Aurora watching should be good for the remainder of the month.

EARTH WEATHER PREDICTION FOR THE NEXT SEVEN DAYS:

As it has been for the past several months, all weather predictions have been fairly well confirmed. This summer's unexpected increase in the average sunspot count has recreated conditions which produce record breaking weather. Currently western Eurasia is experiencing what the Southwest and many Pacific states in North America experienced last summer. Like Europe, Alaska, and British Columbia, the inland areas of the Pacific Northwest have also been extremely hot, dry, recreating a mini drought pattern which is unusual for these area. Huge forest fires which are currently underway have been the dramatic result of the humid weather which sheds little rain but provides thunder and lightning to ignite the forests.

Heat has melted holes into a portion of the Arctic Ocean and some of the famous Swiss Alps have so much melting glaciers breaking off that tourists are not able to visit some famous spots.

SORRY, THERE IS NO RELIEF IN STORE FOR THESE PATTERNS. THEY WILL TEND TO PERSIST UNTIL THE MIDDLE OF SEPTEMBER. I ALSO SUSPECT THAT THERE WILL BE A LONG "INDIAN SUMMER" AS THE EARTH WORKS TO SHED ITS EXCESS ENERGY CHARGE.

Sunspot activity picked up considerably this week for coming alignments. As is typical, the peak will probably form a few days prior to the alignment, which suggests that sunspots will continue to climb in number until August 12 to 15. Then they should plunge for a few days and rise dramatically for the August 27 alignment.

This huge surge in ionic energy will drive the atmosphere of both Mars and Earth into extreme conditions. ALL ATMOSPHERIC CONDITIONS ARE NOW EVOLVING ANOTHER ONSLAUGHT OF EXTREME CHAOS.

Definitely by about the 12th of August, the Full Moon, things should be getting highly energized. From that point on everything will continue to be experienced as "off" kilter and then EXPECT EXTREME CONDITIONS for the remainder of August, STRANGE, UNPREDICTABLE, DESTRUCTIVE WEATHER PATTERNS EVERYWHERE. The Earth's atmosphere will once again become HUGELY OVERBURDENED WITH ENERGY, DUST, WATER VAPOR, AND IONIC INFLUX. Huge dust storms will be reported forming up once again on Mars. It may even rain or snow slightly in the polar zones of Mars from water vapor transported all the way from Earth by the solar wind.

GLOBAL DROUGHT AND FLOOD WATCH

Stories and assessments about drought and flood conditions around the world; global information which provides the ability to assess the impacts to agriculture and the natural environment. For additional details, see <http://www.michaelmandeville.com/ebooks/calendar2003>

THE DROUGHTS ARE LOCKED IN AND FORGET ANYTHING CLOSELY RESEMBLING A REAL MONSOON SEASON. IN THE MIDDLE LATITUDE AREAS AND FURTHER NORTH, FLOODS MAY OCCUR WITHIN SEVEN DAYS AFTER ANY OF THE PLANETARY ALIGNMENTS THIS SUMMER. LATE AUGUST IS GONNA BE A DOOZY COMPARED TO THE HUGE FLOODS WE HAVE SEEN IN CHINA THIS JULY. THAT WAS JUST THE TAME STUFF.

AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED: Ethiopia, East Africa, and Northern India are in dire straits. Severe damage is destroying the eco-system and the human cultures. Nothing here is likely to improve during the next four months.

SOUTHWEST CONDITIONS: NOT GOOD for background or more details see

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm/#weather>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

July brought in some relief in the Pacific Southwest which was scattered throughout the mountainous areas. But it was only about a third of what should have come, if that, and some areas got nearly no relief at all. For August, close to NO MONSOON AT ALL IN THE PACIFIC SOUTHWEST

Drought conditions are not likely to disappear until October or November of this year.

Even so, I am happy to report that the Snowflake area is sporting weather conditions which are far more comfortable than on the Sonoran plain. Night time temperatures are below 60, allowing a complete cool down from the daytime highs of about 100. For the first time in three weeks I have been getting a full night of sleep in the cool night air. The Sonaron desert heat was giving me severe heat stress. I had to sleep with wet towels on my feet and legs to cool down enough, even despite the continued operation of an air conditioner.

EUROPE CONDITIONS

Adverse conditions will continue throughout Europe and this difficult summer may culminate in major floods during September.

EL NINO & LA NINA WATCH

watch is closed, all Pacific water activity is normal, we are between the extremes of the ENSO

CHEMTRAILS

For information, go to:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports.htm#chemtrails>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

EARTHQUAKES

Around the world to see the current and potential patterns of seismic activity, with coverage of the windows of danger. I prepared this section by pulling out the Earth Changes 2003 Calendar which has everything plotted on it. You should too. Check out the Almanac as well, it discusses all of the windows for the year and even spotlights the two most dangerous windows. Unless otherwise specified, all quake activity which is discussed is based on the USGS database charts and tables which list quake activity in excess of 2.0 and above. FOR MORE QUAKE INFO RELATED TO SYZYG WINDOWS, Jim Berkland calculates syzygy windows with considerably more sophistication than I do. See <http://syzygyjob.com>

The most active day for tectonics was August 4, when a 7.5 quake struck the Scotia Sea bottom (between Antactica and the tip of South America). Some 13 major aftershocks in the area during the next 48 hours between 4.0 and 5.9 drove up the world quake count for that day. But in general, the Earth has not responded on a worldwide basis with any uptick in general activity for the Lunar Perigee.

The most interesting quake news of course continues to be the continuation of the shape-shifting of the Earth, which is betrayed by the cracking of the Great Rift Zones and the quakes associated with Antarctica. Three more quakes tore the Mid-Atlantic Rift in the 5.0 to 5.8 range Two more stuck along the edge of the Antarctic Tectonic Plate in addition to some 14 quakes in the Scotia Sea ocean bottom where Antarctica juts up towards Latin America . The Scotia Sea Quakes provided as much action as all other rift zones combined but these quakes were not rifting tears, these were the plates of Latin America and Antarctica grinding past each other. A 7.5 quake on August 4 was followed by 14 others in the range of 4.0 to 5.9

For more conventional quake activity, the Atlantic Ocean to India half of the Earth seemed to dominate over all. There were quakes scattered in Eurasia: in Poland, the Balkans, a 3.9 in Switzerland, Eastern Kazakhstan, Eastern Caucasus, the India-Bangladesh border, Turkey-Iran border region And In Georgia-Armenia-Turkey border region. There were several in New Zealand, making it an active seismic zone this week. Quakes were also scattered in all the usual suspects of the Pacific, including Japan, Philippines, Fiji, Tonga, and Borneo. There were also many quakes in Africa, which generally does not report very many.

AS REPORTED: THE PLANETARY SHAPE-SHIFTING "EVENT" OF JULY 2003 IS STILL ONGOING. The pattern shows us without doubt that during July 2003 a major "shape-shifting" of the Earth has occurred or perhaps it is more correct to say, IS occurring. At the moment I have "no correlate" for this shape-shifting. I cannot relate it to any particular trigger.

AS MADE LAST WEEK JULY 23: SPECULATIVE PREDICTION FOR WATCHING AND LEARNING: WITHIN NEXT TWO to 12 MONTHS VOLCANIC ACTIVITY IN ICELAND, JAN MAYAN, AND ALL VOLCANISM ASSOCIATED WITH THE CARIBBEAN TECTONIC PLATE, INCLUDING THE VOLCANOES IN CENTRAL MEXICO WILL SHOW A MAJOR INCREASE IN EMISSIONS AND ERUPTIVE BEHAVIORS.

CAYCE UPEHAVAL WATCH: The patterns this week follow the patterns of the prior four weeks. As observed last week, they are the clearest signal of a planetary tectonic "event" which I have observed in several years of monitoring the Earth Changes. These are the kind of signals I am watching to find the advance signals of a shape-shifting of the Earth as its poles begin to shift. We definitely had some global shape-shifting this past two weeks.

For additional information about the significance of the rift quakes in relationship to the shifting of the poles, see the Earth Changes Bulletin Update for July 23, 2003.

THE WEEK'S MOST SIGNIFICANT QUAKE

"Magnitude 7.5 SCOTIA SEA
2003 August 04 04:37:20 UTC
Preliminary Earthquake Report
http://neic.usgs.gov/neis/bulletin/neic_xbam.html
U.S. Geological Survey, National Earthquake Information Center
World Data Center for Seismology, Denver
Magnitude 7.5
Date-Time Monday, August 04, 2003 at 04:37:20 (UTC) - Coordinated Universal Time
Monday, August 04, 2003 at 01:37:20 AM local time at epicenter
Time of Earthquake in other Time Zones
Location 60.56S 43.49W
Depth 10.0 kilometers
Region SCOTIA SEA
Reference 190 km (120 miles) E of Coronation Island, South Orkney Islands

810 km (510 miles) SSW of Grytviken, South Georgia
3075 km (1910 miles) SSE of BUENOS AIRES, Argentina

The August 4, 2003, Scotia Sea earthquake occurred on the boundary between the Scotia plate and the Antarctic plate. In the epicentral region, the Scotia Sea plate is moving to the west-northwest with respect to the Antarctic plate. The relative velocity between the two plates is not well determined but is likely to be about 1 cm/y. The overall boundary is a transform-fault boundary, involving predominantly strike-slip faulting, although prior normal-faulting earthquakes have also occurred.”

Overall North American activity was mostly in the groove of the Syzygy Window Principle. Since we were not in a window this past seven days, quake activity should have been down during the past seven days.

The USGS charts (such charts show all quakes 1.0 and above) for the U.S. and Alaska show 381 quakes for the past seven days (down from last week's 409) with the USGS chart for California/Nevada showing 246 quakes in California/Nevada during the past seven days (which in up a contrarian one from last week's 245)

There was another shallow quake above 4.0 near Santa Rosa, California, a 4.2 this week to follow a 4.0 the prior week. This area is beginning to show more and more seismic activity. Curiously, the Santa Rosa area was mentioned by Cayce as an area which had once been home to a colony from Lemuria, an ancient Pacific culture. This area is of particular significance because of a town nearby called Geysers, which has hot springs from a hidden volcanic source. This spot is very nearly, if not completely, the furthest west of the West Coast volcanic fields. It is not associated directly with the other long chains.

The trends for the Pacific Northwest and the Mountain States were NOT IN the syzygy groove but conformed to the prediction I ventured related to the Perigee of August 6. PREDICTION FOR THE WEEK OF JULY 31 THROUGH TO AUGUST 6: Activity will pick up in both frequency and magnitude. California and Japan should continue to be watched carefully. This was confirmed for North America as shown by the numbers below. The 7.5 quake in Scotia Sea partially confirms the prediction on a worldwide basis but I have not done a comparative count of world quakes.

The USGS Chart for the Pacific Northwest reveals 53 quakes (two week sum, up from 51 last week) widely scattered throughout mostly in the Puget Sound Basin and the Portland area. Rocky Mountain Cordillera had 13 quakes scattered throughout Utah (up from only 9 last week). The USGS Chart of Yellowstone Caldera Area shows 16 microquakes during the last week (up from 12 last week). Hood was silent. The USGS chart for Long Valley Caldera (Area) showed a running total of 21 (up from last week).

There was a relative increase of quakes in Alaska vis a vis California.

Quakes definitely should pick up even more this coming week for the August 12 Full Moon.

VOLCANOES

Around the world with the most interesting and relevant volcano stories; briefs on the likely eruptions as well as coverage of on-going activity. For information on current eruptions, see the Southwest Volcano Centre at:

<http://www.swvrc.org/cerupt.htm>

or see "Breaking Volcano Eruption News" at <http://www.volcanolive.com/volcanolive.html>

ARE THE VOLCANIC FIELDS RESPONDING TO THE EARTH'S SHAPE SHIFTING? Not yet. The number of active eruptors declined from 26 to 23. The Southwest Volcano Centre reports 37 volcanoes on the alert status list (up from 34 last week), 6 volcanoes on the restless list (up from 4 last week), and 23 on the active eruption list (down from 26 last week).

It is not clear enough to know what to make of this, if anything.

MOST ACTIVE VOLCANOES THIS WEEK:
6 August 2003 from Volcano Breaking News
at <http://www.volcanolive.com/volcanolive.html>

Gamalama Volcano (Indonesia)
0.80 N, 127.325 E, summit elevation 1715 m, stratovolcano
Friday 1st August 2003
<http://www.volcanolive.com/gamalama.html>

Mount Gamalama, an active volcano in Indonesia's eastern Maluku province, erupted on Thursday blanketing the regional capital of Ternate with thick ash. There were no reports of casualties or damage following the eruption and Residents had not been evacuated. Dust and ash fell in Ternate, around 30 kilometers (20 miles) north of the mountain. Gamalama, which last erupted in 2000, is one of 500 volcanoes in Indonesia. Of these, 128 are active and 65 are listed as dangerous.

Mirroring the slowdown of volcanic activity, El Popo settled down to a 4 puff day. Centrapred reports for August 6 (16:00 GMT) that "In the last 24 hours the monitoring system of Popocatepétl volcano recorded only 4 low intensity exhalations, mainly accompanied by steam and gas. The other monitored parameters remain without important changes. At the moment of this report we can not see the volcano, however, this morning we could see it with a small steam and gas emission."

ECONOMIC WATCH

For background information, use password to go to:
<http://michaelmandeville.com/ebooks/statusreports/statusreports.htm#economics>
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

THE LATEST IMPERIAL FACTION BIG LIE: The recession ended in late 2001 and the poor economic reponse since then is just part of a slow recovery from the terrorist attack. FACT: stock markets recovered their values within about 120 days at most after 911 and at all times prior in American history, the military responses to overseas threats enlivened the economy during the year or two after the response was mounted. In todays world, stimulation by the U.S. government flows into China, which last year sported a record breaking rate of growth, some 7% (as I recall from journalistic sources without double-checking today).

FORECAST THIS WEEK

use password to go to:
<http://michaelmandeville.com/ebooks/statusreports/statusreports.htm#forecastweek>
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

The Ditech Arbitrageur has leveled off this week after advertising different rates every day. Their advertised TV rates are now at 6.0 and 6.318 for short term and long term mortgage interest rates. I suspect that these rates overshoot too rapidly and will fade back down a tad.

They are telling us that they are not very certain about the economy even while supposing that the Bulls are beginning to move in a concerted growth direction. They are probably breathing too much hot air as they chase the rear-ends of the bulls. Job reports are still dismal.

AS REPORTED: APPARENTLY THE GIANT SUCKING SOUND IN THE ECONOMY IS PICKING UP SPEED AS THE PASS THROUGH OF WAR DOLLARS CHANNELS FROM THE PENTAGON TO THE BIG GLOBAL (ONCE UPON A TIME AMERICAN BUT NOT ANY MORE) CORPORATIONS TO THEIR NEW EMPLOYEES IN CHINA AND INDIA.

AS REPORTED LAST MONTH, ALL IN ALL, THERE MAY BE POSITIVE STIRRINGS IN THE ECONOMY IF ONE IS LOOKING FOR THEM. IF YOU READ ARTICLES FROM THE BUSINESS INDEXES AND PAGES, THE NEWS IS GLOOMY. IF YOU READ ARTICLES FROM THE ECONOMIC INDEXES, THE NEWS IS PROMISING.

I CONTINUE TO SUSPECT NOBODY HAS A CLUE AND PRETTY MUCH BELIEVE WHAT THEY WANT TO BELIEVE.

GENERAL PREDICTION DJI AVERAGES:

for detailed predictions, use password to go to:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/ebooks/statusreports/statusreports.htm#stocks>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

ABOUT THE SAME. LITTLE CHANGE.

Over all, I believe that the Bear position is more soundly based in today's facts and this position seems to be "closing ranks". At this point in history, the Bull position is primarily loudest in the financial industry, esp. among New York's collection of "turn over artists", who make their money on turnover of sales. I believe now that there may not be much of an uptick in the economy at all as we coast and then slide into the Bottom of 2006.

– WATCH THE AUGUST BLOWOUT

EURO WATCH

for detailed predictions, use password to go to:

<http://michaelmandeville.com/ebooks/statusreports/statusreports.htm#euro>

(watch the word wrap on the URL)

this week one euro = US $0.8802

AS REPORTED LAST WEEK: The dollar has firmed. Now may be the time to buy. August is going to be a month of a lot of people making emotional decisions and minding the store as little as possible. Russia has announced it is going to price its oil and gas for European delivery in euros. This is a huge shift of Russia into the euro zone. Right now the Russian economy basically functions on hundreds of billions of U.S. dollars in the form of underground U.S.$100 bills. As the Euros come in, the dollars will be less and less of utility, hence of value, in both Russia and Europe.

for discussions and predictions, go to the URL above or, MUST READ: “The Dollar Panics” in “The Coming Economic Collapse of 2006”, which lays out the dynamics of what is happening.

see <http://www.michaelmandeville.com/calendar/collapse2006.htm>

NOW IS THE TIME TO CONVERT SIZABLE UNUSED LIQUID ASSETS INTO THE EURO OR CHEAP GOLD.

JOB WATCH

AS REPORTED LAST MONTH: Oh, its grim, unless you are being stimulated in China by the giant sucking sound in the American economy which is bleeding jobs into China at a faster and faster rate. Unemployment at the end of June stood at a ten year high of 6.4%. The Imperial Faction has just wiped out ALL the gains of the Clinton Feelgood Years. The job situation will probably remain bleak throughout this year unless you have a clean background and are willing to work for less than $10/hr. in the burgeoning security industry or for $7.00 at Wallie World. I will send a separate set of Bulletins on this situation.

UNKNOWN SECRET FACT: Northern Arizona and New Mexico have not suffered much of the recession and continue to expand economically. The economy is driven by people moving in to retire to escape the urban war zones. Good location for contractors, builders, wood products, and new wave or new paradigm shops, health, etc. Inquire of the Quest family.

HEALTH WATCH

– No new status-changing alerts

GEO-POLITICAL WATCH

How are the sunspots likely to most effect human affairs during the weeks and months ahead?

SIGN OF THE TIMES: it looks like, America’s hot adventure “reality” show, “The Empire Strikes Back” HAS successfully keep much of the corporate scandals under the rug. Ken Lay, just a good ole boy Texan, the Presiding Officer of the rape of California Consumers, otherwise known as Enron, is still scott free with his crooked billions...LOU DOBBS’ scoreboard: After nearly two years, 57 indicted crooks, 16 of them from Enron, 2 indicted crooks are now in jail (after adding one last week), none of them is Ken Lay.

For more SIGNS OF THE TIMES: see http://www.michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports_political.htm#SIGNS
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

AS PREVIOUSLY WARNED: WATCH MID to LATE AUGUST. Various intuitive impressions are flowing from many sources about August and the Earth | Mars alignment. This may be related to Palestine, it may be related to something else.

THE STRATEGIC SITUATION:

For predictions related to the mess in Palestine, the Middle East, and the Bush political era, check out http://www.michaelmandeville.com/earthmonitor/ecbulletins/statusreports_political.htm#strategic
(watch the word wrap on the URL)

AS OBSERVED LAST FEW WEEKS: We still are in the dog days, more or less, high summer where everything muddles in the muddle its in without much change. This will continue into August and then I suspect that a new round of terrorist activities will stir up a roiling boiling pot of violence and confusion.

At the moment all we can do is wait for distractions as we pish around the Summer muddle waiting on the one hand for Al Qaeda's next round of assaults in the vast world guerilla war which is progressively unfolding around us. On the other hand we wait for the press shark packs to draw blood on the Imperial Faction while wondering if the economy really is as fatal as most of the pessimists claim.

The Sorcerers who control the Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media are taking maximum advantage of fortuitous events to change all subjects and discussions. No sooner did the hounds begin to encircle the White House over its lying ways, great portions of the mass broadcast media have diverted resources, reporters and air time to Kobe Bryant's totally irrelevant cheating backfire and to an imaginary "epic political struggle" between Republicans and Democrats over the future of California.

The next 60 days of this "recall" election will provide a media circus of phony issues, personality collisions, political and economic illusions, as well as a vast theatre in which all of the "structural problems" and the giant sucking sounds in the American economy will provide a surround sound and image panoply of the collapse of the American economic and political system. Loss of industry, diminished high tech companies, large numbers of unemployed people at all levels, massive imports from China pouring through the docks, falling tax revenues, government on the dole at all levels trying in skimpy, nearly incompetent ways to provide basic services to huge numbers of illegal immigrants, a large number of groups leafleting about practically everything, liberal and democratic politicians stumbling (while in sleepy denial) over the impossible population mix and untenable government budgets created by the flood of illegals, ghosts of Perot and Buchanan raising the flags of nativism which are becoming more and more convincing under the sheer impact of the magnitude of the problems, populists and both radical left and right demanding a whole new world, Grey Davis and other faux-centrist politicians in serious need of political viagra, Keystone Cops party politics among all clans of the Republicrats, right wing nuts sounding rap mantras for the new globalist revolution of total freedom for the ultra-rich, a parade of opportunistic luney-tune media personalities running for governor, and then, of course, there is Arnold, running as the Terminator of a failing political system.

In this 60 day recall spectacle, Grey Davis represents all the faux-centrist democratic partisans who have hand delivered the American population into the current socio-economic collapse by spending the last twenty years undermining the New Deal coalition with increasingly slavish devotion to monied special interest politics at the expense of the common good. Look, Massah, we good Republicrats and we ain't looking back at those fools on the bottom.

Shed no tears whether Grey wins or loses. California is merely the first victim of the failed policies of the past 20 years. Its very size and previous accelerated success has brought all the contradictions and gross absurdities of America together to mix in hugely large impossibilities within its borders. Davis is no more a failed Governor than any other. The simple truth is, California is collectively in deep arrears and is managed by a crazy culture of stupid white men who no longer have a valid connection to the real world and have not a clue how to re-acquire real connections to the real world.

In essence, the California crisis demonstrates the bankrupt policies of the national corporate elite which has imposed a one-sided, greedy grubbing globalism on the U.S. California's recession is China's growth curve. It is that simple. In this respect, as goes California, so goes the U.S.

The only way out is a profoundly pugnacious politics which grabs the weathy controllers of the corporations by the nuts, squeezes real hard, throws them up against the wall, and shows them the New American Deal. More probable than not, it will take another four years of escalating failures before enough illusions about wealth and greed are shed sufficiently to permit Americans to throw out the fat ass lawyer class and use their individual brains once again to create real solutions.

In the meanwhile, it may be highly instructive to observe how the Terminator plays in California politics. But before then, head for the hills or the beaches and forget this crazy world until you have to get the kids back in school.