

Announcing Publication

“The Coming Economic Collapse of 2006”

Trends, Predictions, & Prognostications
for 2004-2006 & Beyond

by

Michael Wells Mandeville

published August, 2003 by MetaSyn Media, 228 pages

front and back cover

Here is why Jeff Rense (Rense.com), worldwide talk radio personality with his ear on all the world's grapevines, says:

“Best wishes for the book...you are CORRECT in your views”

This is your best populist sequel to books like “Stupid White Men”, “Pigs At The Trough”, “Lies & The Lying Liars Who Tell Them”, “The Best Money Democracy Can Buy”, and “Thieves In High Places”. These books, like this “Collapse 2006”, warn Americans and the world about the incompetence of George Bush and the big money Republicrat cabals of greed and mendacity who have hijacked America and its War on Terror to pursue a reckless invasion of Iraq. Many sources are now discussing how Bush’s

“Imperial Faction” is pursuing corporate aggrandizement and imperial conquest in the oil-rich Middle East. But this hard-hitting book ranges far beyond to show how and when the corporations and Republican government will bankrupt themselves and America with their ruinous policies. The content of this book is light years ahead of newspapers and broadcast/cable, even most of the internet, and there is little doubt that people everywhere, especially those of modest means, urgently need this book to help them navigate the perilous times ahead.

Abstract

Is the Bush Administration an easy re-election bet like the mass media pundits were claiming as late as Summer 2003, or is it going down in flames? Are the Bulls going to ring up the stock market, or will a massive international dollar panic bring down the recovery (what recovery?)? Is the U.S. out of its league in Iraq? Has Bush and Company made a terrible strategic error in WIDENING THE WAR ON TERROR BY INVADING A COUNTRY (Iraq) WHICH POSED NO THREAT TO THE U.S.? Is the Mass Broadcast Media as crooked and destructive to democracy as it has come to seem? What about the coming dollar panic which international sources are warning about? What happens when the long term depression cycle hits in 2006? Dozens more fundamental issues like these are addressed in this TOP SECRET DOSSIER FOR PROGRESSIVE EYES ONLY.

Abstract For Bookstores and Libraries

Mandeville lays out the dynamics behind the issues of international violence, terrorism in Palestine and the Middle East, and the economic devastation of North America by greedy corporate elites. After setting forth the dynamics for reading by average citizens, the author sets out what the headlines will be years in advance and how to make strategies for surviving the next depression in 2006. Mandeville begins by showing how the next depression bottom year is in 2006, which is due right on the same regular 25 year cycle which has defined all of the worst economic moments of American history since statistics began to be kept after the War of 1812. Non-Fiction General Audience Index for both Economics and Politics – U.S. and World, Globalism, History - General, Media or Mass Media, Science – General Systems)

Availability

In current paperback, P.O.D. ISBN 09721051-9-0 through MetaSyn Media, Ingram, and participating bookstores such as Barnes & Noble, Borders, etc. Suggested retail is $18.00 with standard trade discounts. It is also available in ebook form (PDF, 228 pages) and paperback (228 pages) through:

<http://www.michaelmandeville.com/collapse2006>

Table Of Contents is on the web at:

http://www.michaelmandeville.com/collapse2006/abccollapse2006\_tablecontents.htm

Don't miss the Sample Chapter: "The Global Media Shift" at http://www.michaelmandeville.com/collapse2006/abccollapse2006\_Section\_4.htm

In his lengthy "Global Media Shift" essay (Section Four of the book), Mandeville sucker punches as hard as possible what he calls the Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media. The author lambastes with great historical detail the role and methods of the American Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media during the past 100 years in propagating bigotry, jingoism, a culture of lying and deception, the illusions and delusions which perpetuate narrow political "two party centrist" parochialism, and the long imperial expansionism which has finally brought American troops into Baghdad. The author outlines the historical role of the Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media in rationalizing and engineering American majorities to continually support foreign invasions and perpetual war. With great precision, the author exposes the techniques through which the Broadcasters use emotional "sorcery" to shut out diverse viewpoints and make national political discussion by American citizens nearly impossible.

Though the historical assessment of the Mass Media in the "Global Media Shift" leads to dark conclusions, Mandeville optimistically concludes that the explosive growth of the internet has created powerful new media internet channels for transnational sharing of "real" perspectives of, by, and for "real" people.

Mandeville argues that these new transnational perspectives enable people to see through the hypnotic mantras of Orwellian Big Lies which have become common coin on the channels of the Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media. With rapid mass sharing of real information and background perspectives, larger and larger numbers of people are now able to wake up out of the webs of illusions and conceit which Mass Media Sorcerers in the Broadcast industry have woven to push the American people into support of the amazingly stupid and illegal invasion of Iraq.

This awakening and liberation from the Mass Hysteria Broadcast Merchants will fundamentally change the nature of politics throughout the world. It will also dissolve the American two party political system, which no longer rests on much else but Big Money, media manipulations, and old habit patterns. Mandeville argues that this can already be seen in the insurgency candidacies of Dean, Kucinich, and Sharpton in the Democratic Party. With the lies now far easier to expose and dissolve in the light of truth, the invasion of Iraq is creating a massive loss of confidence throughout America and the World for Bush, the Republicrats, and the Broadcasters who tooted the fraudulent imperial adventure in Iraq.

More About Why This Book Will Be On The Best Seller Lists:

This book is for people who are deeply disturbed by the huge changes which have overtaken American economics, politics, and government during the past 20 years, especially since the elections of 2000. It is especially for people who are nervous as hell about the economy and who are wondering what kind of cover to seek. What was originally a 40 page newsletter warning about long term economic trends has turned into a 228 page book which debunks many of the illusions of Century 21 American superiority. The author outlines how the American economy is being pillaged while the greedy, arrogant forces behind Bush's Imperial Faction force the American people into a paranoid, losing international crusade which is progressively creating the worst international disaster since the tragedy of Vietnam.

Anyone who is disgusted and mad as hell at the history-breaking levels of lying, manipulation, and political con which is flooding the United States MUST GET THIS BOOK.

With occasional Michael Moore style wumping of the wacky radical right and their neo-imperialist con jobs, "The Coming Collapse" conducts with one beady eye a deadly serious probe of the trends and manipulations of our affairs during the past several years. The other beady eye focuses on where all of this is going during the next five years. The result is a future history of the collapse of the American Empire as it hits the "Wall" of the 25 Year Economic Depression Cycle which will occur with 92% probability in 2006/2007.

Don't you get "ominous" hunches about how weak the American economy is. Don't you wonder if what has happened to Brazil, Argentina, and Japan may be headed our way? Are you convinced that Bush Junior's "tax stimulus plan" is a screwy scheme to reward the ultra-wealthy, like Bush, and leave the common man, like you and me, in the dust?

Doesn't it seem like somebody is going to have to pay for the flood of incompetent bungling which seems to be today's main watch words for American corporations and government? You ask your left sentinel who is guarding you, how's it going in government? "Its midnight", responds the sentinel, "and all is incompetent". So you ask your right sentinel, how's it going in the corporations? He too responds, "it's five after midnight and all is incompetent, they can't even steal anymore without being outrageously obvious".

Don't you already know that the "Roadmap To Peace" in Palestine was Dead On Arrival. Do you not-so-secretly suspect that John Ashcroft is a dyed-in-the-wool fascist, whose continued presence in office is a grave danger to the U.S. Constitution?

Is there anyone left in the country West of the Appalachian Mountains who ISN'T deeply disturbed about the apparent "virtual" take-over of this country by an "Imperial Faction" of people under the administration of George Bush Junior? Who are these neo-conservative chicken hawks who are masquerading as fighters of Bin Laden's terrorism while detouring American forces to occupy oil-soaked Iraq? Don't they seem to be serving an agenda of international conquest to enrich their cronies in the oil industry and doesn't this give you "creepy" feelings? Isn't it truly weird that both Saddam and Bin Laden are STILL on the loose while giving the U.S. the one-finger salute on a daily basis with organized bombings? Aren't you even more disturbed that many members of Bush's Imperial Faction are planning and advocating more wars after Iraq, wars to take out aggressive, radical Muslims in Iran, Syria, Saudia Arabia, Sudan, Libya , and elsewhere?

And can anything in history top the con job with the so-called, TA DA, "weapons of mass destruction", which shall surely live on in controversial infamy for as long as the U.S. exists? The Republican and political insiders solemnly claim they have all this top secret real good information about the for sure top secret locations of the top secret weapons of mass destruction which they know for certain, secretly of course, was really there once upon a time, at least, maybe, but they can't explain why because it is all very top secret and thus only top secret experts in the top secret Senate committees are going to do a top secret investigation of the top secret facts about this top secret affair? Nevertheless, they are absolutely certain there are weapons of mass destruction in Iraq.

Aren't these guys even more hilarious than the original Keystone Kops? There is no writer on Earth who could imagine such an absurd goofy plot line as the "reality" Washington DC dishes up daily via our Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media. This must be straight from Central Casting to educate us all about how very wicked it is such a web of lies and double standards to weave. Maybe the only important question is, how come the American people don't roll on the floor laughing every time the Broadcast Media begins to pompously intone the latest version of the Republicrat Big Lie? Why should just Arnold in California get the rotten eggs? Why shouldn't Rather, Blitzer, Jennings, Brokaw, and all the other intellectual dwarves of the Mass Media get regularly pelted with rotten eggs for passing on the Republicrat big lies as if they were real news?

Aren't these some of the top questions of the day? Don't they sum up a lot of what is wrong in this country today? If you think so, you will find "The Coming Economic Collapse of 2006" very helpful during the coming months and years in providing some perspective on today's trends.

Sorry, you won't want to look now, but it gets worse...what if...the Bears are right...what if... we are still on an over-inflated 25 year economic bubble which is still yet to burst?. What if the Dot-com bubble was only a small part of an economic collapse which is just in its initial stages? What if, based on real history, simple basic, non-complicated economics, and economic cycles which have been RIGHT ON THE MONEY for the last two hundred years, you could foresee the inevitable? What if suddenly the fog lifted and you could see "The Coming Economic Collapse in 2006" which will drive the American economy back into the blackest days of the Great Depression of 1929-1936?

What's that going to do to our politics, the elections of 2004, 2006, 2008, the political parties, the economy, the stock markets, the dollar, imports and exports, the job market, and real estate, especially those high priced suburban ring houses? And what if you could see how the economic collapse will collide with the precipitous worldwide loss of credibility in American government, especially the American Presidency, and the Mass Broadcast Media, which deepens now with every passing day.

This book lays it all out succinctly in a fast moving clip with no punches pulled:

1. Why the 2003 economic revival is phony, forced, and doomed to failure after no more than two to 3 years.
2. Why this is a jobless economy.
3. Why the American economy will hit the final wall in 2006.
4. Why this is the result of the corruption of sound New Deal principles which restored the U.S. to economic health after the collapse of 1929-1934.
5. Why the Bush administration will be completely discredited and Bush will have to leave office in humiliation after a hard fall from overweening arrogance.
6. Why the Democratic Party must and will be completely reshaped to dump its faux-centrist Republicrats, especially the mostly spineless democratic Senators who condoned the invasion of Iraq.
7. Why and how America must and will rewrite the New Deal to recover from the coming collapse, a New Industrial Development Plan.

The whole analysis is set within the framework of eight 25 year economic depression cycles since 1800. The reader can see from the discussion of Manifest Destiny I, II, III, and the Great Depression of 1930-1936 what is likely to happen during the next five years. The text is liberally leavened with petro-dollars, sunspots, giant sucking sounds in the economy, imperialism, the "Earth Changes Bulletin", Hermann Goering, jingoism, balance of payments, Big Lies, structural problems, Presidents Putin, Chirac, & Fox, stock market crashes, depressions, cheap dollars, Amazing Grace and Neocon Incompetency, Warren Buffet The Next Richest Man In The World, Mass Hysteria Broadcast Media Sorcery, why America is the biggest controversy on the Earth, strong dollars, price earnings ratios, Dr. Strangelove Kissinger, Manifest Destiny Version 4, the euro, and more.

All this is gist for the question mill, asking how people personally and collectively are going to dig out from underneath the rubble of economic collapse in a major new depression just a few years down the road? This book can be read for any level of strategy making, for personal survival and positioning, professional and business survival, or national economic salvation. Despite the tendency of humor to provide occasional relief in dealing with deadly subjects, the logic and projections in this book are better than most of the next 1000 economy tooters, stock tipsters, political pundits, and psychic channelers you will find on the web or anywhere.

With this book, Plato, Aristotle, & Thomas Paine (who heavily influence the author's mental framework and style) show the readers, if they didn't already know, why they gravely distrust American politics and economics. But "The Coming Collapse" does not leave them stranded in despair, it points to the populist progressive movements which will have to come to clean it up, how the elections will play out during 2004 2006, 2008, and the directions which people everywhere will have to pursue to build new foundations.